FROM NORTH GEORGIA.

THE REMOVAL OF BRITISH CONSULS FROM THE CONFEDERATE STATES.

The official correspondence respecting the removal of British Consuls from the Confederate States, was presented to the House of Lords on the 10th ult. The letters, which, irrespective of enclosures, are twelve in number, range in date from June 9 to November 20, 1863. They refer to the removal of Mr. Moore from Richmond, Mr. Cril from Charleston, and Mr. Walker from Savannah. The correspondence was moved for on April 5th last. A return moved for at the same time of all copies or extracts of all correspondence with any agents of the Confederate States in this country, was also presented to the House of Lords the same day. It consists of letters exchanged between Earl Russell and Mason, and extending from March 24 to October 6th, 1863.

Funeral Invitation.

The friends, relatives and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. WINDER are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services of their youngest son, WALTER, from their residence, this morning, at 2 o'clock, without further invitation.

June 28, 1864.

BLUE-BLACK WRITING INK!

PREPARED BY

J. EVANS BRITTON,

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

THE UNDERSIGNED has been manufacturing for some time past, and is still engaged in the manufacture of, an article of WRITING INK, which he is warranted in saying, from the many high and complimentary notices he has received, is superior to any other Writing Ink manufactured in the South, or that has yet been offered to the Southern public.

This Ink is of a blue-black color, will not mould or thicken, and from its freedom from all acids and tonics, does not injure steel pens.

The subscriber is fully warranted in recommending it to the people of the Southern States.

Read the two following highly complimentary notices from Southern papers:

[From the Columbia (S. C.) Guardian.]

Ink.—Mr. J. E. Britton, of Charlotte, N. C. has laid on our table a bottle of Ink of his manufacture. We have written some editorials with it this morning, and while we do not aver that it has promoted the flow of thought, it is saying a good deal that it has not retarded them. In fact, it seems to be a most excellent article.

[From the Columbia (S. C.) Carolinian.]

Writing Ink.—We have received, from Mr. J. Evans Britton, of Charlotte, N. C., a bottle of Writing Ink, in the manufacture of which article that gentleman has been engaged for some time past. The Ink is much superior in quality to any that we have been able to obtain for many a day. It is of a fine color, flows freely from the pen, and will prove far more durable than the articles we have penned with it.

This Ink can be found for retail at the Carolina Times printing office, and at the store of Messrs. J. H. Stevens & Co.

Wholesale orders will be promptly filled by addressing

J. E. BRITTON, Charlotte, N. C.

NORTHERN NEWS, &c.

SENATORIA, June 20.—Northern dates to the 15th have been received.

Ten thousand wounded from Sherman's army had arrived at Nashville and Louisville.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times says that up to the 2d their loss in skirmishing around Dallas was three thousand.

Johnson's retreat from Dalton was masterly. His strategy excited the admiration of all.

The vigilance of the rebels proved more than a match for the Federals.
Sherman is represented stronger than at Resaca.

Gen. Wheeler is tearing up the railroad near Calhoun, and throwing trains off the track with torpedoes.

Cincinnati papers of the 14th say Morgan's force is scattered and demoralized by defeat at Cythiana. Burbridge is still pursuing them.

Ohio regiments paroled by Morgan have arrived at Cincinnati.

Kentucky is full of guerrillas.

The majority of Banks' army are still at Morganza, under Emery. The fourth division, under Warren, have gone below. The balance of the 18th corps goes to Carrollton to spend the summer.

General Taylor is reported as having passed through Monroe on the 10th, with fifteen thousand men.

The navigation of the Mississippi is considered scarcely freer than before the capture of Vicksburg.

Sturgis lost in the fight with Forrest about six thousand men.

Another force, organized by A. J.
Smith, left Memphis, hunting for Forrest.

The New York Express says: "Grant has his own and McClellan's route, and will now try Butler's."

Fort Drewry is represented as closely invested.

Sheridan, in conjunction with Hunter, is to tear up the railroad, capture Lynchburg, and cut off communication with Richmond.

The slavery amendment to the Constitution was discussed at length in the Federal House.

Gold opened in New York on the 14th at 198 and closed at 196½, the decline being caused by the passage of the gold bill.

SENATORIA, June 21.—The Memphis Argus of the 18th has been received.

The Washington correspondent of the New York News says:

"It is estimated that one thousand wounded per day were received at the hospitals here for the ten days previous to the 11th. There were already thirty-five thousand in the hospitals within the city."

The Times' correspondent from Sherman's army says:

"The rebel night attacks are draining our ranks as effectually by piecemeal as wholesale slaughter in battle. A retreat would be worse than a second Moscow. It would be better to lose the whole army in a desperate advance than to lose it in an attempt to save it by retreat."

FOREIGN NEWS.

SENATORIA, June 20.—European news to the 4th had been received.

It is ascertained that overtures have been made by the French to the English Government, to devise means to put a stop to the awful carnage.

The London Times considers affairs in Virginia very unfavorable to the Federals, and anticipates Grant's failure.
Advices from Denmark continue warlike, and the indications are that the war will go on.

In New York on the 15th, gold closed at 197½. Cotton, 120 to 125.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Yankee papers are especially vexed at seeing the California gold going to Europe. The last vessel that arrived at Panama had $260,250 for New York and $900,000 for Europe.

Grant loses five thousand men in a battle and he despatches to that effect.
The Yankee Secretary of War gives to the public what of these despatches he pleases, after carefully manipulating them; and he always winds up by saying, "the enemy must have suffered equal, if not greater, losses." This is the process which is used to show the Yankee people that Lee's army must be nearly destroyed.

Lincoln has declared the exequatur of Charles Hunt, Belgian Consul at St.
Louis, Mo., null and void, because he claimed exemption from military service on the ground that he was a consul.

Gen. McArthur and staff have left Vicksburg and gone to Georgia to report to McPherson. McArthur is one of McPherson's brigadiers.

The Democratic National Nominating Convention meets in Chicago on the 4th of July.

Another turreted monitor, called Oneota, has been launched at Cincinnati. She will be completed as possible and sent to Porter.

Washington and Alexandria, Va., have been stripped of troops to reinforce Grant.

The report of the Yankee Commissary General of Prisoners, accompanying the Secretary of War's report, has the following statement of the number of Confederate officers and men captured since the beginning of the war: One lieutenant general, five major generals, twenty-five brigadier generals, 186 colonels, 146 lieutenant colonels, 244 majors, 2,494 captains, 6,814 lieutenants, 16,563 non-commissioned officers, 121,156 privates, and 6,800 citizens. Of these they had on hand at the date of the report 29,229 officers and men, including one major general and seven brigadiers.
There had been 121,937 exchanged against 110,866 union men returned.

A NEW POSITION FOR JOHN BULL TO TAKE.

The London Times of a late date accuses the Confederates of a systematic abuse of British neutrality. The Times also appears to be opposed to allowing Confederate privateers the privilege of visiting English ports. On this subject it speaks thus:

We have above all things to take care that our ports are not converted into stations of hostilities, or employed as a vantage ground by either belligerent.
It is now perfectly notorious that a systematic abuse of our neutrality has been practiced by one of them in this manner. It is equally certain that it is only by international comity that a commissioned ship is allowed to enjoy the immunity of her flag by coming and going where she lists. The jurisdiction of a neutral Power over its own ports is absolute, and it need give no reason for any regulations which it may see fit to make in respect to them. The United States exercised this power in 1794, by banishing French privateers from their ports upon friendly requisition from England. It may, therefore, well be asked whether we are any longer to extend courtesy to a belligerent which has shown so little consideration for us.

FROM THE GEORGIA FRONT.—Near Marietta, p. m., via Atlanta, June 25.
—From ten till twelve this morning, our batteries on Kennesaw kept up a heavy cannonading on the enemy's lines and batteries—the enemy shelling slowly with no effect.

At noon the enemy, massing in force on our left, advanced a heavy line of skirmishers, which after a spirited fire were driven back by Stevenson's advance line.

Up to this hour all is quiet, the enemy resting and evidently awaiting an accumulation of supplies.

No fighting is anticipated for several days.

The enemy's position is unchanged.
[Special dispatch to Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel.]

The American people grew vain and impious, as they increased in wealth and importance, says the Appeal. They bowed down in adoration of a piece of bunting, idolizing and worshipping it with more reverential awe than ever did the pilgrims at the shrine at Mecca. Their minds became inflated with visions of a splendid empire, embracing the entire continent, and of their ability to cope with a world in arms.

They cherished the idea until it became vitalized into a controlling belief. They ignored the Bible and proclaimed their allegiance to the doctrines of a Higher Law and of Manifest Destiny. Their self-conceit and inflated pride knew no bounds. Extending beyond the limits of reason, they gave themselves up to the wildest license of thought and opinion. Everything, from the soil they cultivated to the love they desecrated, was to be free. They defied Jehovah, if their sentiments conflicted with His laws. The foundations of society were upheaved, and corruption fostered in the body politic. Elections became a mere struggle for spoils, and not principles, and the halls of legislation a scene of bacchanalian revels.

In the providence of God, for the sake of humanity and Christianity, Secession was inaugurated to put a quietus upon pride. Confusion reigned throughout the land, and America became a second Babel.

More Contributions.

The following contributions we have been requested by our worthy Mayor to acknowledge through our columns.

He desires, on behalf of our town, to return thanks to the citizens of good old Mecklenburg, for the manner in which they have responded to the call for help for our wounded. He also requests us to say that more contributions are needed, as, in a few days, large numbers of wounded will be passing through. We know that our ever-liberal citizens will not be tardy in the discharge of their duty to our wounded patriots. All contributions will be acknowledged as soon as received:

C. T. Alexander, one bag meal.
Gen. W. H. Neil, one ham and one bag flour.
Williamson Wallace, " " " " [and seven pounds butter.
Dr. J. M. Strong, one ham and one bag flour.
R. B. Hunter, forty-one pounds flour.
Mrs. Dr. Asbury, one ham and fifty pounds flour.

The Crops in Alabama.

A correspondent of the Mobile Tribune, writing from Sumter county Ala., says the corn crop never looked better than at present unless in some of the low, wet places that have been inundated by the recent severe rains. The wheat is much better than he ever saw it, and a greater abundance is planted.

Col. Osborne.

The following incident is selected from the correspondence of the London Herald, describing the battles in the Wilderness and of Spotsylvania. The officer and the battalion of sharpshooters, are a portion of Gen.
RAMSEUR's North Carolina brigade. Colonel OSBORNE, who led them on the occasion, is now in this city, suffering from a severe wound received on the 19th of May. We trust he will soon be able to resume his duties:
"The battle on the left appeared, after the repulse of the morning, to hang fire. Direct advance so sternly repelled, the enemy determined to make a movement on Ewell's flank. Wilcox's division having been withdrawn the day before for the support of Beth, the two wings of Lee's army continued still unconnected; and through the space thus open, Burnside moved a force at about two o'clock, with a view of crushing our line from right to left. Ewell, who is gifted with the instincts of a military genius, stood, however, prepared at all points. As the flanking force of the enemy came up, moving perpendicularly to Rodes' line of battle, a battalion of sharpshooters, from Ramsey's brigade of North Carolinians, following their bold commander, Major Osborne, had the audacity to charge a whole division of the Federal army.
A whole division of the Federal army advancing on that handful of men, fed before Osborne's followers at the top of their speed, leaving behind in its flight all its knapsacks, and as many as fifteen hundred of its muskets. Burnside's movement against Ewell's right flank, thus defeated by an amusing boldness, a repetition of such an enterprise was prevented by an immediate junction with the line of battle that had just been restored on the right wing."

Manufacturers' Convention.

We find in the Augusta papers of Friday last, the proceedings of the convention of manufacturers recently assembled in that city.

Among the delegates present we find the following from North Carolina: J. McDONALD, Concord, N. C.; G. MAKEPEACE, Cedar Falls, N. C.; J. A. YOUNG, Rock Island, N. C.

The business transacted does not fully appear in the papers before us, but the following resolution introduced by Gen. J. A.
YOUNG was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the chair appoint a committee to prepare a memorial to Congress on the importance of the manufacturing interests of the Confederate States; to ask the fostering care of that body, and to attend the Congress in person.

The resolution, after some discussion, was unanimously adopted.

The Chair appointed the following committee under that resolution, viz: Gen.
YOUNG, of North Carolina; Messrs. ADAM JOHNSTON and WM. E. JACKSON, of Ga.; Jno.
WHITING, of Alabama, and WM. GREGG, sr., of South Carolina.

On motion of Mr. MONTGOMERY, Augusta was selected as the next place of meeting for the Convention, to be held at the call of the President.

der, through the right breast, mortally, died on the 19th; Corp'l Kithcart, slight; B. D. Brown, in head, slight; Monroe Brown, in hand; Buck Cashon, in hand; Wash. Cashon, in hand; M.

From Florida.

The Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel has been advised that the Yankees have been laying waste the beautiful plantation of Col. Shaw-and, at Cedarville, on Cedar Creek—destroying everything. The reason assigned for their conduct is, that Mr. B. is one of the leaders of the Confederates in Florida, and supposed to have been concerned in destroying the Yankee gunboats at St. John's river.

From Georgia.

A correspondent of the Atlanta Appeal furnishes the annexed news under date of 23d inst.:

A scouting party just returned from the neighborhood of Cleveland and Dalton report that the garrison at the former places consists of one brigade of infantry and two regiments of cavalry, commanded by Col. Gibson, this point being one of the main points from which Sherman receives his supplies. A battalion of artillery en route for Sherman's army was turned back by the scouting party.

All the towns in the rear of Sherman's army are to be but one vast hospital for his sick and wounded.

The Yankee garrison at Dalton numbers about fourteen hundred.

The railroads in Sherman's rear are closely picked.

The residents within Sherman's lines are said to be suffering from deserters from our own army and straggling Yankees. Five of these desperadoes have been caught by our scouts and hung.

The weather continues clear and warm and the roads are drying finely, and in a few days movements can be made.

The enemy, with three lines of battle, attacked Hardee's corps Thursday and were gallantly repulsed, our batteries driving them back behind their breastworks. Their loss was very heavy, and with the losses of the day previous run their list of casualties up to 1800, including two Generals.

The Register of Saturday says:

The affair in which the divisions of Stevenson and Hindman were engaged Thursday evening was to us a serious matter resulting in the death of a number of our best regimental and company officers, and about twelve hundred men. We learn that the object of the assault was to capture a battery of the enemy that was very annoying to our lines, and in making the charge it was necessary to advance a considerable distance, through an open field raked by the enemy's artillery. The battery, of thirteen guns, was taken, and the Yankees driven about a mile and a half, through two or three lines of entrenchments. Their loss is supposed to have been much less than ours. The brigade of Gen.
John C. Brown, of Stevenson's division, leading the advance, suffered most severely.
It was temporarily in command of Col. E. C.
Cook, who was wounded, it is feared, mortally.
He is an able and experienced officer, and his loss will be severely felt.

List of Casualties.

Col. Jones was wounded and has since died.

The 35th has lost all of its field officers.

FAIRLY CAUGHT!—The following in-answer to our squib of yesterday fully explains itself, and places the House in proper position before the public. We really do think our friends from the country cannot fairly complain hereafter:

"We saw a little box of Pills made of Quinine, Iodine, Rhubarb, &c., yesterday, which cost the purchaser $23-50."—Salisbury Watchman, 23d June.

We saw a little bushel of Corn, a few days since, sell for $15, and a very small pound of Butter for $3.50. The pills, 60 in number, were worth in peace times $2, and composed entirely of imported articles. Corn was worth 50 cts, and butter 12½ cts, and plenty made in the Confederacy. Pills about 11 prices, corn 30 prices, and butter 28 prices. The following is the prescription:

Sul. Quinine, 60 grs.
Iodine, 15 "
Pulv. Aloes, 15 " Pulv. Rhubarb, 15 "
Mass and divide into 60 pills.

FROM VIRGINIA—DESPERATE FIGHTING AROUND PETERS- BURG DURING THE PAST WEEK.

We are without papers or telegrams from Virginia since Tuesday last, but we saw Lieut. Hoke, who is attached to the Provost Marshal's office of this city, yesterday, who left Petersburg on Friday morning, and from him obtained the following facts:

Lieut. Hoke was sent to Petersburg on business, was there two or three days, and left on Friday morning.
Grant's line extends from the James river across the Appomattox to the neighborhood of the railroad, this side of Petersburg a few miles. On Wednesday and Wednesday night, there was desperate fighting along the whole line, our army forcing the enemy back from their position at some points, taking a large number of prisoners, cannon, colors, &c. 'On Wednesday afternoon 104 prisoners were brought into Petersburg, and the same night Mahone captured 1750 men and about 100 officers, 8 pieces of artillery and 7 stand of colors, all of which had arrived in the city. Five hundred more prisoners were taken on Thursday night in a deperate fight which took place on the railroad, the enemy's extreme left, this side of Petersburg. Here the Yankees were driven back, and on Friday morning when Lieut. Hoke passed near the battle-field, the enemy's left was within about half a mile of the road, and fighting was going on along the whole line.

Gen. Lee was in Petersburg and directed the operations of the entire army, and the citizens, officers and soldiers were cool, confident, sanguine and determined. Lieut. H. assures us that no fears of a defeat were felt by any one, and that the army was never in better spirits or more sanguine. In the fight on Wednesday some siege guns that had been planted by the enemy near the city were dismounted, and but few shells were thrown into the city during Lieut.
Hoke's stay. The heroic people of Petersburg represent as perfectly sanguine of a victory over the Yankees.

About 400 of our men were taken by the enemy on Wednesday. The killed and wounded are no doubt heavy on both sides, but thought to be much heavier among the Yankees than on our side. Of course Lieut. Hoke could not arrive at anything like the numbers on either side.

Lieut. H. left Petersburg on Friday morning, walking twenty miles along the line of the road, when he took the train for Weldon. He came over the entire road from Petersburg to Weldon on that day, and the enemy nowhere had possession of it. If, therefore, the enemy were driven back in Friday's fight, as we hope they were, the damage to the road will soon be repaired and communication with Petersburg will be reopened. Lieut. H. brought a Yankee pipe and a fine rifle as trophies from the battle-field. Our informant is a gentleman of intelligence and a faithful officer, and these facts may be generally relied on.

We trust we shall get further and still better news before we go to press.

THE NEWS.

The latest news we have of the progress of the Yankees, says the Goldsboro State Journal of the 27th inst., is the following dispatch received here by Gen. Baker from the officer commanding at Weldon:

WELDON, June 25.

Gen. L. S. Baker: No fighting around Petersburg since Thursday evening.

During Wednesday and Thursday we captured twenty-five hundred prisoners.

The enemy still hold the railroad and are fortifying at Reams' Station.
The enemy's cavalry have cut the South-side railroad, and fears are entertained that they may reach the Danville road at the Junction.

Passengers on the train just in from Stony Creek report that a general engagement was expected to-day between Lee and Grant.

Gen. — whipped Hunter near Lynchburg last Thursday. No particulars of the battle have been received.

PETERSBURG AND RICHMOND.—At this writing, 8 o'clock Sunday night, we have nothing satisfactory or definite from Petersburg and Richmond, telegraphic communication between these points being still intercepted. Passengers from Danville this morning report that a courier had reached that place from Lee's army yesterday, conveying the intelligence that our arms continue successful in repelling the enemy; that all hearts are sanguine, and Grant is becoming more disconcerted every day.
Beauregard had captured 2,500 prisoners and completely routed the enemy in heavy engagement last week.—Gran-doro Daily Citizen.
